

TURNILS MACHINE DIVISION

The machine in this picture may be fitted with additional equipment.

SUD OS 400

Aluminium Profile Saw – safe and saw free for easy and flexible production

The OS 400 is an automatic saw, cutting any type of aluminium profile in dimensions up to 100mm. This quiet and safe machine improves the working environment for the operator and leaves nice edges without any swarfs.

The OS 400 comes as part of a comprehensive range of proven Turnils machinery, production equipment and support services to help you increase the range, capacity and efficiency of your VB production.

SUD OS 400

OS 400 features

- Cutting aluminium profiles in dimensions up to 100mm
- Safe, quiet and easy to operate
- Automatic with selectable cutting heights
- Swarf-free cutting, eliminating additional de-burn operations
- Improves working environment through sound reduction and clean work place
- Easy to operate and maintain
- Support services i.e. technical support, spare parts, installation and training

Technical data

Current: Single phase 230V (50/60Hz)

Pneumatic equipment necessary